Delanee Phillips recently relocated back to Chicago after attending the University of Oklahoma where she studied broadcast journalism. Her background in writing and marketing has only helped her adapt to the real estate business. Utilizing her own personal experience, she now strives to help others with finding a place to call "home."

Delanee joined Miller Chicago Real Estate as a Leasing Agent and she also provides support to the Property Management division. Her goals include obtaining her Broker's license while developing / expanding her knowledge of the industry.
