

Jonathan Tuttle serves as the Vice President of Luxury Residential at Miller Chicago. He has an extensive real estate background, knowledge, and experience that started very early while growing up in a real estate family, where his father was a general contractor for over 70 custom homes, and was selected as a preferred home builder by Inland Real Estate. In addition to flipping more than 30 houses, he has owned multi-family apartment buildings, parcels of land, manufactured housing communities, and has owned and managed residential real estate offices in the suburbs.

Jonathan previously served as the President of the Midwest for Yale Realty and Capital Advisors. Yale is the preeminent boutique Manufactured Housing brokerage firm in the United States, where his team of five had completed billions in real estate evaluations and closed brokerage transactions in this niche sector. He then shifted to passively acquiring these assets with accredited investor capital as Co-Principal of Midwest Park Capital. Jonathan is Co-Principal and management at Century Estates and Monmouth MHC.

Jonathan understands the value of first impressions and was selected by prestigious Crain's Chicago Business and Fox News as one of the best dressed Chicagoans. Wanting to create more value and better and more favorable negotiations for his clients, he attended the program on negotiation for senior executives at Harvard Law School. In addition, he completed several residential real estate designations including Institute of Luxury Home Marketing (ILHM), Certified Negotiations Expert (CNE) and Rebac (ABR) buyer representative courses. Considered a trusted resource for Chicago residential real estate information, he has been quoted in national articles for Wall Street Journal and Huffington Post, and in local media articles in Food Industry News Magazine. His core principals are built on the highest levels of honesty, integrity, and transparency. In his spare time, Jonathan gives back to local charities and has sat on numerous boards of directors of non-profits including the Chicago Culinary Museum and Chefs Hall of Fame for the past five years. In addition, Jonathan annually hosts an extravagant charity event for homeless dogs, Brownie Birthday Bash, which raises thousands of dollars while finding dogs homes.

Prior to his career in real estate, Jonathan was the top sales producer in the United States of over 9,000 associates at women's clothier Bebe, where he set many records, including first in the company's 33-year history to sell $1.5 million of merchandise in a single year. In addition to appearing in corporate videos, he also received the greatest number of complimentary letters written about a sales associate in company history.
